DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-10 and 14-19, drawn to a device for gripping an exterior of a cervical canal against a tubular to resist backflow of fluid or gas within a uterus, classified in class 606, subclass 193.
 - II. Claims 11-13 and 20-22, drawn to a method of preventing fluid or gas from flowing out of a cervical canal from a uterus, classified in class 128, subclass 898.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process such that bonding multiple layers of tissue together for sealing.
3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3734

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Species of figures 1 and 2; Species of figures 3 and 4. The species are independent or distinct because they contain claims directed to patentably distinct species.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claim is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 3734

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

7. During a telephone conversation with Diane McKay on 01/19/2007 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, species 1 and 2, claims 1-11. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 12-22 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fahy (U.S. 5,591,203).

Fahy discloses in figures 4, 7, and 9-10, a pair of pivotally connected cross arms (101,103) with curved clamping tips (107) and hand-grips (110), wherein the device (100) comprises a locking mechanism (112); wherein the clamping tips (107) can be adapted to receive the cervical canal therebetween and press the against the tubular portion (120) of the hysteroscope instrument; and furthermore, wherein the angle between the clamping tips (107) and the hand-grips (110) are considered within the degrees as claimed.

10. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Walker, Jr. (U.S. 4,226,240)).

Walker, Jr. discloses in figures 1-5, a pair of pivotally connected cross arms (6,8) with curved clamping tips (22,24) and hand-grips (14,16), wherein the device (10) comprises a locking mechanism (between 18 and 20); wherein the clamping tips (22,24) can be adapted to receive the cervical canal therebetween and press the against the tubular portion of the hysteroscope instrument; and furthermore, wherein the angle between the clamping tips (22,24) and the hand-grips (14,16) are within the degrees as claimed (see col. 4 and 5).
